responsible, independent, life-long learners*

To whom it may concern:

My Name is John McDonald. I am a counselor at Alberni District Secondary School in Port Alberni. I am writing this letter in support of Jory Anderson and his application for scholarships and bursaries.

I have known Jory primarily through my scholarship 12 class. Teaching him has been a pleasure. He is an excellent student that always attempts to do his best. In my class Jory was always well organized and prepared. He was always able to meet deadlines and handed in exceptional work. Jory was good at asking for help when needed and was able to work independently on his own during much of the course.

Jory Anderson has also been able to excel in other academic areas at ADSS. He has excelled in the area of Information Technology. He has an excellent knowledge of basic computer operating systems. In addition to this, Jory has regularly been on the honor roll ever since grade 9 and plans to enter the University of British Columbia to study computer science.

Jory has also participated in our school band Program for many years. Jory also has played recreational soccer and badminton. Jory works part time at our local movie theatre. These experiences have helped him become a very "well rounded" individual. His ability to be flexible, communicate well and work hard will help him in whatever career path he chooses.

In conclusion, I support Jory Anderson in his application to any scholarship or bursary application that he may be eligible for. He is a well-rounded young man with a bright future in whatever career path he chooses to take. Thank you for considering his application.

Yours truly,

John McDonald
